

Faculty Disclosure Statement

The Southern California Orthopedic Research & Education Center (SCORE) is an IMQ/CMA accredited provider of Continuing Medical Education. It is a requirement that faculty participating in educational activities sponsored by SCORE must disclose to the activity audience any significant financial interest or other relationship with the manufacturer(s) of any commercial product and/or provider(s) of commercial services discussed in an education presentation, or with any commercial supporters of the activity.

The intent of this disclosure is not to prevent a speaker/presenter with a significant financial or other relationship from making a presentation, but rather to provide the audience with information on which they can make their own judgments. In keeping with this policy, the faculty is required to sign the following disclosure statement.

Please complete either section I or II:

- I. I, the undersigned declare that I do not have a relationship with any commercial company or its product(s).

Signature Date

- II. I, the undersigned, declare that I have a relationship with the following commercial companies or its product(s). Please specify the company and the relationship (i.e., royalties received, stockholder, grant support, etc.). I understand that I must comply with any actions the SCORE CME Committee feels necessary to resolve any conflict of interest.

Cultural and Linguistic Competency

As a Continuing Medical Education provider accredited in the State of California by the Institute for Medical Quality/California Medical Association, Southern California Orthopedic Research & Education (SCORE) is required to comply with the "CME: Cultural and Linguistic Competency Standard."

To this end, all educational presentations for SCORE CME activities must include information on evidence of health disparities that are cultural or linguistically- related. If no cultural or linguistic health or health care disparities or practice gaps can be identified for a specific topic, this must be documented within the presentation.

Faculty Name:

I understand the Cultural and Linguistic Competency requirement and agree to incorporate such information within my presentation.
